2. Highfield West Constituency

Constituency Map

Constituency Biography

Highfield West constituency is located in Harare and covers Willowvale, High Glen and Glen Eagles Road up to Harare Drive northwards. The constituency comprises of two wards, that is, ward 26 and 29. It was created in 2005 from the bigger Highfields. Highfields was known for its activism during the liberation struggle and housed prominent liberation icons including Robert Mugabe, the late Abel Muzorewa and many other nationalist fighters. The infrastructure in the constituency is old and the road network is infested with potholes. Social service delivery just like the majority of urban constituencies in Zimbabwe is in a miserable state.

Demographics

The 2012 census report indicated that ward 26 had 18278 females and 18485 Males, while ward 29 recorded 6240 females and 7011 males. A total of 50 014 are housed in the constituency.

Socio-economic outlook of the Constituency

Highfield in general has remained a poor suburb despite the regeneration in other areas after 1980. Most of its successful residents choose to move out of the area (in a similar pattern to other high-density areas) rather than invest and set up in the area. It also remains a primary destination (like most high-density areas in Zimbabwe) for rural to urban migrants, who find it easier to pay for accommodation in the area and commute to work. Citizens are also attracted by the easier opportunities to start up home businesses/industries at Machipisa and Gazaland Home Industry areas. It thus remains heavily populated, with high unemployment and is socially deprived. Petty crime is high as well as more serious crimes like burglaries.

Electoral History

The constituency is traditionally opposition controlled since 2000 were MDC-T has been winning with huge margins. In 2013 the MDC-T got 6 825 votes against 2 639 for ZANU PF with a margin of 4186 votes. This was however a 9% decrease in the opposition support of 2008. The constituency had 25 982 registered voters in 2008, 22 844 in 2013 and 19 255 in 2018 showing a marked increase.

Polling stations

In 2013, Highfield West had a total of 29 polling stations and 6 polling stations have been set for 2018 as witnessed through the inspection exercise.

Constituency Biography

Epworth, a largely an informal settlement 12 kilometres east of Harare, is arguably Zimbabwe’s biggest slum settlement and a conduit into Harare for poor newcomers. It is a high density dormitory town administered by the Epworth Local Board. Electricity is mostly found at service centres, some schools, offices and most of the western suburbs including Stopover, Chinamano and OverSpill. The majority of the people get by as street vendors and informal manufacturers. There are no street names but most of the plots are numbered. The community is divided into suburbs that are demarcated by dust roads. Major suburbs include Stopover, Chinamano, Dam, Zinyengere, Pentagon, Magada, Overspill, Maulana, Donhoro, Munyuki and Danastein. It is a poor suburb. There are three secondary schools namely Epworth High School, Domboramwari High School and Muguta Secondary School which were commissioned in 2007. Epworth settlement is divided into 7 political wards that are administered by the current Local Board with elected councillors.

Constituency Demography

According to census 2012 by Zimstat, Epworth had 167,462 inhabitants. Of these, 83,983 are male, while 83,479 are female.

Electoral History

The constituency electoral history is marred by electoral violence particularly in 2008. The demography of the constituency makes susceptible to manipulation and abuse by candidates especially of the youthful unemployed citizens. The constituency has been dominated by opposition until the 2013 Harmonized election.

Constituency Biography

Harare West comprises the two council wards of Marlborough and Malbereign. It is the result of splitting the former Harare North Constituency into three after increasing the number of House of Assembly seats from 150 to 210 in line with Constitutional Amendment No.18 in December 2007. Its sister constituencies are Harare North and Mt Pleasant (where the Harare North Constituency office fell). Harare West and these two sister constituencies, together with Harare East comprise Chisipite Senatorial Constituency.

Harare West Constituency is gifted with a wealth of human resources from all sectors, and a remarkable portfolio of commerce and industry concerns eclipsed possibly only by Harare Central Constituency because of the latter's central business district. It houses the Westgate Complex, Bluffhill Industrial Park, Ashbrittle Office Park, Emerald Hill and numerous other business sites that host formidable local and multinational businesses. The constituency has the capacity to resource its own development but would require financial assistance in setting up the constituency development forum infrastructure.
Electoral History

The constituency is an MDC-T stronghold. Harare West House of Assembly Constituency is represented by Fungayi Jessie Majome the Former Deputy Minister of Justice and Legal Affairs.
